Group Project: Automatic Highlight Reel
Members: Joshua Paup, An(Drew) Casner, Jacob Tran, Jason Hong
Project Description: Our project is a platform to aggregate and display sports highlights in an easy to consume way.
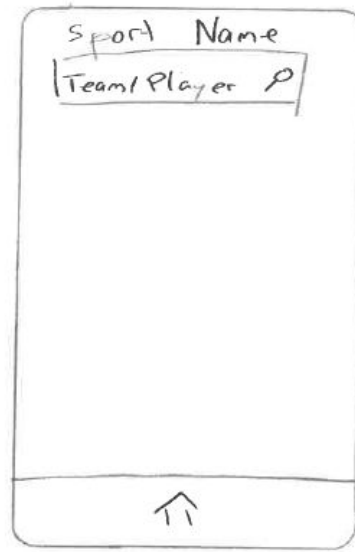

Brainstorming and Sketches:

The main page that shows the score and then if we wanted to received personalized highlights, we could filter by player, sports league, and individual teams. After we have the personalized highlights, we can search for more specific videos, or use the filter by ratings/time system.

Individual Contributions:

Joshua drew up the final storyboard with annotations by aggregating our ideas into one intuitive interface that balances features with simplicity.

Jacob worked on a few sketches and helped contribute to the development of the final storyboard concepts.

Drew did a lot of the research into what makes a good interface for video sharing and sketched up a few ideas to get us all started.

Jason elaborated off of the groups key ideas during the brainstorming process and helped develop the final storyboard with Joshua.
